

Url: https://www.spacefoundation.org/
Title / Role	Foundation Visitor	Development Team	Corporate Members	Site Maintainers	Foundation Board
Stake in Project	High, the project is for the end user's benefit.	Moderate, They will be responsible for the creation and development of the site and potentially any fixes or changes to the site	Moderate, they are part of the foundation and thus benefit from its success.	High, they are responsible for the site during it's lifespan	High, The site represents the foundation that they are in charge of.
Impact in the Project	Moderate to None	High	Minimal	Moderate	High
Deliverables for successful project	Opinions on the use of the site when asked	Design documents, Site code, Wireframes, a way to track issues and their resolution, etc.	Input during the final testing of the new site.	Any demands for the maintaince of the site, to include documentation anf processes	List of requirements of what the site should be achieving. As well as modifications to those requirements througuh the development process.
Perceived Attitudes about the project	a Range from excited to participate to uninterested	Proffesional, they are being paid to design and build the site. Enthusiastic.	Heppy about the improvement and just want the site to relay in the information in a proffessional manner.	Proffesional, this group will be responsible for the upkeep of the site. Might be hesitant to a learning a new site and all of it's qwirks.	Presonal and Proffesional, hopefully excited for the ability to better represent their company.
Management strategy or involvement	Minimal involvement	High envolvment, management of the company they work for.	Minimal involvement but should be kept informed when major milestones are hit	Moderately involved in the design process, highly involved in the testing and issue tracking. Work closely with this group to better understand their needs for running the newly developed site.	Highly involved, should be included in each step of the development process and will direct the project throughout its life.
Stakeholder Responsibilities	Providing feedback when asked, otherwise nothing	Responsible for the design and building of the site to include delivering a working site meeting the requirements of the customer(s)	No responsibilities	Responsible fo maintaining and fixing the site during it's lifespan.	Responsible for reviewing the site and its contents to make sure it aligns with the foundations goals going forward.